

Social Inequalities and Cancer

(IARC Scientific Publications No. 138)

Errata

- In the right column of page 66, paragraph 4, beginning with line 1, the paragraph should read: “For the United Kingdom, comparable historical data were available since 1911. They consist of the results of surveillance system statistics (Decennial supplements) that are used to establish time trends.”
- In the left column of page 71, first paragraph, lines 12-20 inclusive should read: “A comparison was possible for Decennial Supplement data for 1911, 1931, 1971 and 1981, regarding mortality from all cancers and stomach and colon cancers in both sexes, as well as from lung cancer for men and breast and cervix cancers for women.”
